AFC President's Message

Dear friends,

The AFC Futsal Championship may be just eleven years old but it is already one of our most endearing and established competitions. The popularity of this event is directly linked to the overall attraction and rapid growth of Futsal in Asia where the mini-version of football has found favour with the masses.

It is very heartwarming to see our Futsal developmental efforts achieve a year on year increase in spectator attendance and media coverage of the AFC Futsal Championship. I have also observed tremendous improvements in speed, tactics, skills, and strategies which mean we are on the right track of development.

AFC is determined to move forward in full speed in its mission to bring up the level of coaches, players and clubs from amateur to professional. This ambition, of course, needs the close collaboration of our member associations as this will bring us to the standard that can be compared to the worlds' best in Futsal.

This year in Uzbekistan, we saw the best 16 teams from Asia in action in Tashkent. Determined to defend their title, Iran exhibited exemplary performance to reach the finals of the competition. On the other hand, Uzbekistan was also full of determination to achieve victory in the competition and worthily reached the finals as well.

We are very grateful to the Uzbekistan Football Federation for their support and dedication in hosting the eleventh edition of the AFC Futsal Championship.

Lastly, on behalf of the AFC Executive Committee, I would like to congratulate the Football Association of Thailand for becoming the third Asian country to be given the honor by FIFA to host the FIFA Futsal World Cup 2012.

GENERAL ORGANIZATION

The attractiveness of the five-a-side version of the game has in the last decade experienced exponential growth in Asia. Its popularity can be attributed to its easy accessibility to all and the lightning pace of the game on a reduced pitch.

The AFC Futsal Championship presents to Asian fans and spectators an opportunity to enjoy the highest level of elite Futsal games.

AFC organizes this annual Asian competition, which enables the teams to develop their competitive instincts.

The AFC Futsal Championship 2010 was held from 23 to 30 May in the beautiful country of Uzbekistan. Passionate spectators eagerly watched the championship, the skillful players of Uzbekistan, and the crowned champions again, IR Iran.

The Organizing Committee of Uzbekistan worked diligently hard to make necessary improvements to meet the requirements of organizing the Futsal championship.

The venues of the competition were the Uzbekistan Sports Complex, Tashkent and the IT University Complex, Tashkent, the capital of Uzbekistan. One of the stadiums were extremely well-equipped to accommodate Asia's best Futsal teams and their supporters.

The Uzbekistan Sports Complex served as the main court of the competition where all the televised matches took place. The offices of the AFC delegation and the Organizing committee were also conveniently located in the stadium. It also provided ample space for the media and VIP. On non-match days, it becomes the venue for the training of the teams

The IT University Complex, which served as the second venue, but was not as good as the main venue. The surfaces of the two Futsal courts were constructed especially for the tournament. The Uzbekistan Football Association and AFC collaborated to ensure that the championship was televised to increase its fan base.

Transportation, security, medical facilities and the friendliness shown towards foreigners did not fail to leave a good impression on all those fortunate enough to have made it to Uzbekistan.

The matches from the group stage to the finals were varied but full of excitement. The Knock-out match between Uzbekistan and China P.R. was deferent than the past game Uzbek crowds give their team the power to beat china . Uzbekistan, however, bowed to the defending champions, IR Iran.

In spite of the aggressiveness of the teams to win, the sporting level of fair play shown by the teams charmed the championship. The AFC Futsal Championship 2010 took another step forward in the development of the game with the publication of this Technical Report. This will encourage more development work by the Member Associations through the feedback given to improve their teams and the education of coaches.

In conclusion, the organization of the AFC Futsal Championship 2010 was a success for it has fulfilled the needs of all the stakeholders of the championship. The analysis of all the events in Uzbekistan will be a benchmark to help improve preparations of future tournaments. The game of Futsal being new necessitates extending competitions and leagues to develop specialized Futsal coaches and referees.

We look forward to more pleasant surprises in the future.

TECHNICAL AND TACTICAL ANALYSIS

Uzbekistan organized the 11th AFC Futsal Championship 2010 for the top teams who qualified. The competition was well organized but it also shows that it is still in the developmental stage in Asia. More study and work needs to be done by the Member Associations to boost the knowledge of Futsal and to develop the competition.

AFC appointed a Technical Study Group for the competition. They evaluated teams' tactics and the technical ability of players. The report will help the development of Futsal in the Member Associations by making recommendations to Futsal instructors who will deliver Futsal Coaching Courses as well as for Futsal coaches.

I.R Iran, Uzbekistan, Japan and China qualified for the 2012 FIFA World Championship

Iran beat bitter rivals Japan, 7-0 in the semifinal match. In the other semifinal match, Uzbekistan defeated China, 4-3.

The reigning champion Iran dominated Uzbekistan in all aspects of the game during the final match to win the match, 8-3.. The win is Iran's tenth title out of 11 competitions.

Japan defeated China P.R. 6-1 in a very slow and boring match to clinch 3rd place.

It was once again obvious that countries without regular Futsal competition have found it much harder to develop the game during the competition.

A big variation in method between the coaches was obvious regarding their discipline and strategic preparation in this tournament.

Some coaches made one substitution at a time, which allowed the players to get more involved in the match and also to quickly change the strategy of the team. Some coaches did not intervene at all, with themselves making the substitutions.

Nevertheless, there can be no doubt that the most successful teams had coaches who took a practical approach.

Most of the teams used a mass substitution system, four players being substituted at the same time, in this tournament as compared to last year.

In general, exceptional teams used 3-1 and rarely 4-0 formations and switching at times to 1-3, 2-2 formations to score. The other teams need more work on the training ground to adapt quickly and efficiently to different playing systems.

Fitness is one of the requirements of using pressurizing tactic. Three out of the four top teams in this competition were using pressing defense in the opponents half and that showed the teams had good Futsal physical preparation for this important competition to qualify for the FIFA World Cup.

Player's solo effort and counter attacking was the base of most of the teams' attacking strategies in this tournament as noticed in the statistics and graphs.

An excellent counter attack is a sign of the team's defensive achievement. This means that the teams play defensive as a strategy but after regaining the ball, immediately go for attack to score using varied counter attack tactics in Futsal. Some teams used man to man defending without a coordinated change in the system which resulted into confusion when the opponents employ rotation system.

The best teams used a mix defending system which is a combination of zonal and man marking systems with coordinated changes in the system depending on the situation. This is more dynamic than zonal system.

Goalkeeper's performances improved a lot as well. The goalkeepers were confident with their field player's skills while receiving and making passes as well as shot stopping skills. Some teams used their goalkeepers as power play players and some teams play back pass to the goalkeeper from the opponent's half to deter opponent's pressure and to keep ball possession just like Tajikistan goalkeeper.

This is probably the reason of the increased importance of goalkeepers training with special goalkeeper coaches.

STORY OF THE CHAMPIONSHIP

Group A:

The host country of this championship, Uzbekistan, was top of this group with 3 wins in a row. They played differently from their previous competitions after the former Futsal National Head Coach of Japan Mr. Sapo became their head coach. They were more aggressive in attack, better organized in defense and played more as a team thus making them one of the most exciting teams in this tournament.

Indonesia also performed better than before as they played more as a unit. Their players showed good individual ability.

Lebanon's major attribute were their strong and fit physicality. Some of their players were skillful and if they could consistently work well as a unit, they will be a team to be reckoned with in future.

Although Chinese Taipei did not get any points in this group, their fighting spirit was an inspiration to others in the tournament.

Group B:

The fact that I.R. Iran became the top of this group with 9 points was no surprise at all. They had versatile individuals and worked well as a unit in terms of attack and defend throughout the tournament. They were physical superiority was another factor why they could dominate most of the matches.

Australia showed they have the potential to develop this game in their country. Most of their players were rather young but showed good discipline. They played solidly in defense and launched quick counter-attacks efficiently most of the time.

Tajikistan was good in attack but not when defending. They conceded 27 goals in the group stage. Even though losing 19:2 to I.R. Iran in one of the group matches, they showed that they have the ability to score goals against the best team in Asia.

There were some talented players in the Kuwait team but unfortunately, they did not play as a unit in most of the matches.

Group C:

Thailand is one of the power house of Asia which comprised mostly of young players. This competition was a good platform for their Head coach to cultivate the young ones by giving them the opportunity to gain more international experience and maturity in preparation for the next championship which will be hosted by Thailand. They performed quite well in this group in terms of attack but in defense, they were not truly tested.

Besides Thailand, Kyrgyzstan, Vietnam and Korea Republic were very close competitors vying for another qualifying seat among themselves.

Vietnam showed marked improvements after engaging an Italian coach to guide them while Korea Republic still used a young team to for this competition. The Koreans had very good fighting spirit and their players were quite skillful. However, they will have to train and play more games in order for their players to gain more experience.

Group D:

Japan won all three group matches and qualified to the 2nd round. They outclassed China P.R. and Iraq and showed they were one of the best team in this tournament. They defeated China and Iraq 5:1 and 10:1 respectively and demonstrated that they had good scoring abilities and also at the same time, they were good at defending. However, in the match against Turkmenistan, Japan was struggling in their play against this team which executed Power Play right from the beginning but they still managed to finished 1:0.

China P.R. consisted of a group of young and skillful players that performed reasonably well both in attack and defense. Under their Brazilian coach, we noticed that this team has improved. Iraq won only one match in this group against Turkmenistan but they played a very close match with China. They showed their strong mentality throughout the tournament.

THAILAND VS CHINA P.R. (1st Q/Finals)

China started the match with confidence and determination. They pushed forward and pressed the Thailand players until they could not play their usual game. There were plenty of missed passes when they tried to build up. It was evident that Thailand was in a bit of a panic.

China's players performed well individually as well as a team. They won most of the 1 v 1 duel and showed that they were fit enough to play man to man marking right from the beginning. As a result, Thailand was not able to keep ball possession well and lost their shape.

Plenty of attractive and attacking combination play from China also helped them dominate throughout the match.

When Thailand occupied the Power Play from the second half, China showed that they were prepared for this and reacted to it very well. The match ended up 9:2 to China.

JAPAN VS KYRGYSTAN (2nd QF Match)

Japan started the game with determination and tried to score very quickly, so they pressed from the beginning and attacked from the wings as was their style coupled with fast movements from all players to create more space. They did score in the first half. Kyrgyzstan played too cautiously and that only gave Japan more chances to score against them.

UZBEKISTAN VS AUSTRALIA (3rd Q/F Match)

Uzbekistan played aggressively. They pressed from the very first second till the end making sure that Australia could not build up from the back. Their players challenged every 1 v 1 situation physically and demonstrated that they had better physical abilities. It was evident that the Australian players were a bit tired in the later part of the second half which may be due to the fact that most of their players could not recover after the group matches.

Uzbekistan kept moving and shifting around during attack. Their multitude of variations created plenty of shooting chances while the Australians were struggling to cope with their pace. If Uzbekistan can improve upon their scoring ability, they can become a team to be reckoned with. However, the "never give up" mentality and attitude of the Australian team deserves respect.

I.R. IRAN VS LEBANON (4th Q/F Match)

I.R. Iran seemed to take this game lightly at first and Lebanon took advantage of that and started attacking and threatening I.R. Iran's goal.

They regrouped and began building attacks from behind and towards the wings till they scored the first goal which geared up their game and played to their true potential with speed and different tactics, and their movements off the ball were smooth and effective. They won 7-1 with ease.

UZBEKISTAN VS CHINA P.R. (1st Semi -Finals)

It was a very close game between these two teams. Uzbekistan could not perform up to their usual standards especially in the first half. It could be due to fatigue and stress.

They were not able to create more scoring chances due to the very little variations during their rotation in attack. They tried some long balls up into the "D" for their 'Pivot' but lacked accuracy which resulted in their losing possession of the ball most of the times.

China showed that they were well prepared for this tournament. They were confident in 1 v 1 situations and demonstrated good combination play ability. Their sudden "Runs" to the back of their opponents' defense caused plenty of panic.

Although Uzbekistan defeated China by 4:3, the Chinese impressed us tremendously.

I.R. IRAN VS JAPAN (2nd Semi- Finals)

Iran showed they were good individually as well as a team. Their players performed well in both attack and defend. They pushed up and press making it difficult for Japan to build up their normal play.

Japan lost their confidence and even failed to take shots some 10 meters away from the goal which they were usually good at. Iran showed they were a better side as most of their players were good at finishing. This made it difficult for Japan to defend.

Japan tried the Power Play when they were 0-5 down but Iran showed that they were well prepared and overcame that easily.

They scored two more goals to wrap up the match with 7:0 win.

CHINA P. R. VS JAPAN (3rd / 4th PLACING)

China looked a bit nervous and not as confident as compared with the previous match against Thailand. There were stray passes which caused them to lose the rhythm of attack and they had to face quick counter-attacks launched by Japan. Their rotation was not successful because they did not move around much, lacked concentration and alertness during the set pieces too.

Japan showed they were the better side in 1 v 1 duels. They also combined well as a unit during attack and made plenty of good moves with pattern. They demonstrated very good reaction to the pressing play from the Chinese players. It was evident that the Japanese were well prepared for this match against China.

After defeating China 5:1 in their group "D" match, Japan won again by 6:1 and became the 2nd runners up in this Championship.

FINAL

UZBEKISTAN v I. R. IRAN

The host country Uzbekistan had the support of their huge home crowd and they appeared confident and of high spirits. They started the match very well and scored two goals in quick succession causing much to the delight of their supporters in the packed stadium who were cheering them on.

They kept rotating during attack and pressed right after losing ball possession. Their positive attitude earned them the lead for the first 1/3 of the first half.

I.R. Iran, the defending champion, was rattled in the first 5 minutes and lost their shape both in attack and defense. Probably due to the hot atmosphere in the stadium, most of the Iranian players could not perform to their usual standards. But as the match progressed, the Iranian showed their real potential. They were not just good individually but they could work very well as a team. Apart from their good skills, they were also superior in physical fitness. They were down by 0:2, but managed to rebound by beating Uzbekistan 8:3, which demonstrated tough mentality. The Iranian team's good preparation and possession of international experience also played a major role in their victory.

REGIONAL ANALYSIS

Futsal in Asia is developing at different levels. In some countries, they work hard to improve the standards of their game by having very competitive and professional leagues. In doing so, players gained more experience and exposure and would be able to compete in an international arena. Just like I.R. Iran, Thailand and Japan too have their own league. Unfortunately, most of the countries in Asia have yet to have their own league.

South and Central Asia

(Iran, Uzbekistan, Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan)

In general, the south and central regions had the most representatives in this competition compared to the other regions.

The performance of the teams with the exception of I.R. Iran and Uzbekistan was below expectations resulting in the other regions' great progress this year. Kyrgyzstan only qualified up to the quarterfinals whereas Uzbekistan and I.R. Iran made it to the final round. Eventually, I.R. Iran won the championship once more and qualified for the FIFA Futsal World Cup Championship.

West Asia

(Kuwait, Iraq, Lebanon)

The West Asian teams' lack of Futsal league competitions and exposure may have been a major factor in their poor results. The inexperience and the lack of Futsal players may be another reason why they were not up to par with the standards of top Asian Futsal teams. The Lebanon team played well this year and managed to qualify for the quarterfinals.

The good news for West Asia is that some countries such as Saudi Arabia, Kuwait and Qatar have set up Futsal Committees and started a Futsal league.

It is the hope of AFC that the establishment of Futsal Committees and Leagues will filter through to the other countries where a high level of Futsal is being played. The organization of leagues will develop Futsal players, coaches and referees which will eventually assist West Asian Member Associations to be more competitive in future Futsal competitions.

East Asia

(Japan, Korea Republic, Chinese Taipei, China PR)

After a year of absence from the championship, Chinese Taipei qualified thanks to a highly disciplined team with good physically conditioned players. However, they still need to learn more about the game and to adapt to the competition's format. Japan had the leadership of a new coach and they played very well but were outplayed by I.R. Iran in the final throes of the competition.

South East Asia (Asean)

(Thailand, Vietnam, Australia, Indonesia)

Futsal is popular in the South-East Asian countries which is one of the reasons why AFC Futsal Championship was hosted in this region. Good physical condition and speed are positive traits of South-East Asian countries which are essential in Futsal. However, it was noted that there was no improvement to this region's performance this year as none of the countries managed to reach the next round.

Thailand veered from their usual style technically and tactically. Their entire performance from defense to attack did not produce positive results. They managed to reach the quarterfinals but lost to China. Australia comprised of players who were physically strong and they exhibited great improvements when compared with their previous competitions. They have new and young players this year but they still need composure and patience in the game.

Indonesia and Vietnam were the young teams in this group but demonstrated that they have good potential in Futsal which was evident during their last games as they were able to adjust to the demands of high level of play. It is recommended that they should consider more international exposure prior to the competitions.

VENUES & STADIUMS

Tashkent,

Tashkent, which is the capital of Uzbekistan, is one of the ancient cities located along the great Silk Road from China to Europe.

Since Tashkent was a city of rich merchants and craftspeople, they were known to construct big architectural buildings such as caravanserais, mosques and mausoleums.

Many mausoleums are sprinkled all over the city of Tashkent and the surrounding areas.

Uzbekistan Sports Complex

The Uzbekistan Sports Complex is one of the two venues where the 2010 edition of the AFC Futsal Championship took place in Tashkent, Uzbekistan.

This main venue comprises of a complex well equipped with several rooms for Medical, Doping Control, Media, LOC, and AFC. The surface of the hall was renovated and constructed especially for this tournament and the plastic surface was in accordance with AFC's specification.

IT University Complex

The second venue for this championship was at IT University Complex in Tashkent. This complex was not as impressive as the main venue but it was also equipped with the necessary Medical, Doping Control, Media, LOC and AFC albeit on a smaller scale. The surface of the hall was also renovated and constructed especially for this tournament and the plastic surface was in accordance with AFC's specification.

Teams Training Stadiums

Four training courts were designated for regular training for the 16 participating countries. The training venues were located at Yoshlik, Chilanzar, Qushbegi and Umid.

Team Managers Meeting

The Representatives from all 16 participating countries and all Delegations of the AFC Futsal Championship 2010 were present at the Team Managers Meeting to kickstart this important event.

Coach:

Coach: Hossein Shams (IRAN)

Day of birth: 6 April 1961

Coaching Qualification:

AFC A Licence
AFC and FIFA Futsal international instructor

Career as a Coach:

1999-2001	Iran Futsal National team
2002	Bahrain Futsal National team
2003-2005	Kuwait Futsal National team
2006-present	Iran Futsal National team

Outstanding Players:

- No 12: GK, Mostafa Nazari – Calm, stable and good in long throw
- No 4: M. Keshavarz Nasrabadi – Calm, good positioning in defend
- No 9: Daneshvar Masoud – Good at shielding the ball and able to score with both feet
- No 10: Mohammad Taheri – Versatile player. Good at both attack and defend

Key Points:

- Formation alternating between 4-0 and 3-1
- Good individually and as a team
- Most players are able to attack and defend
- Outstanding physical ability
- Showed very attractive combination plays
- Players are aggressive, skillful and willing to fight
- Quick transfer between defense and offense
- Good finishing ability
- Press as a unit
- Strong mentality

System/Formation:

Alternating between 4-0 and 3-1 and flexible

Style of Play:

They played aggressively in every game and would normally move to upper court to give pressure to opposite team to try and win ball possession quickly. React quickly between Offense and Defense. Their players were skillful and worked as a unit very well. Their finishing ability is outstanding too.

Technical:

All of their players were skillful. Good at both feet and able to score goals.

Their passing and controlling ability were outstanding.

Tactics:-

Defensive –

Zonal defense plus combination with man mark. They pushed up to press immediately right after losing ball possession and also in most games which made it difficult for their opponents to build up.

Offensive –

Basic form is 4-0 but change to 3-1 suddenly and smoothly. Players kept moving fluently during the rotation with plenty of variations. It made opposite teams difficult to react properly. They were able to stop the ball in front of the “D” and support quickly from behind.

Physical condition

High fitness level. Most of their players were quick, agile and have ideal anaerobic capacity.

Mental aspect

They have strong mentality and were able to overcome difficult situations. They also have self believe and full of confidence but at times, over confident.

Coach: SERGIO AGUIAR GUIMARAES FILHO (Brazil)

Day of birth: 17 February 1958

Coaching Qualification: Cref. Consello Regional Esucacao Fisica Abtf. Associacao Brasileira De Treinadores De Futebol - FIFA

Career as a Coach

International Coaching:
2003-2008: Japan National Futsal Team
2009-present: Uzbekistan National Futsal Team

Club Coaching:

Dinamo Yamal – Russia
Bradesco Esporte Clube – Brasil
Fulminense Futebol Clube – Brazil
Grajau Tennis Clube - Brazil

Style of Play:

Start with 4-0 normally but change to 3-1 suddenly trying to find the Pivot. But their combination plays were not good enough although they have quite skillful individuals. Their physical condition was quite good and as a result they were able to press in the upper court and launch the counter attack quickly.

Technical:

Players are skillful averagely. #11 is good with both feet and #13 have a powerful left foot. However, the passing was not so accurate.

Tactics:-

Defensive –

Zonal defense mainly. Sometimes start defending from the half-way line and sometimes press in the upper field then change to man to man marking.

Offensive –

Normally play aggressively or it could be because they are in their home ground. Plenty of rotations but variations were insufficient. Their basic form was 4-0 but may suddenly change to 3-1 and look for the Pivot.

Physical condition

The physical condition of their players was quite good. That is the reason why they were able to press in the upper court. Most of their players are agile and quick.

Mental aspect

They played aggressively and confidently because of home ground advantage. They were fearless and fought hard in every game.

Outstanding Players:

- No 1: Umarov Rustam – GK, Stable, good in long throws
- No 11: Yunusov Artur – Agile, skillful and good with both feet
- No 13: Samegov Fakhridin – Powerful left foot

Key Points:

- Formation: Alternate between 4-0 and 3-1
- Quite skillful individuals
- Plenty of good moves in rotation
- Try to find the pivot suddenly while rotating
- Playing aggressively and confidently in front of home supporters
- Much improved under the new coach in terms of attack and defend as a team
- Some effective long passes
- Using #13 in the Power Play and taking free kicks
- Needs to improve the combination play

System/Formation:

Alternating between 4-0 and 3-1

Outstanding Players:

- No 8 KAMISAWA TAKANORI – very athletic, technically strong skilful dribbler and creative player
- No 11 AKAHASHI KENSUKE – skilful dribbler and creative left wing attacker
- No 10 KOGURE KENICHIRO -- professional player and leader and very skilful

Key Points:

- Formation varies 4-0/3-1
- Efficient and compact defending
- Excellent tactical awareness
- Excellent use of wide areas
- Aggressive and skilful dribblers in No. 11 , No. 8 and No. 6
- Quick transfer from defense to offence by solo runs

System/Formation:

Flexible 1.3.1 or 1.4.0 or 1.2.2 etc

Style of Play:

They always played aggressively in every game and would normally move to upper court to give pressure to their opponents and try to win ball possession. React quickly between Offence and Defense. Their players were skilful and worked as a team very well. Their finishing ability is very good too.

Technical:

Very skillful players that can perform any tactic or system of play efficiently and physically fit to do any technical move

Tactics:-

Depend heavily on tactical strategies in defense or in offense or even in free kicks or in kicks

Defensive –

They adopted group play and depended mainly on tactical strategies combined with strong and effective defense by defending with 1.4.0 and change to 1.3.1 or 1.1.3

Offensive –

They attacked mostly from the wings with fast passes and movements without the ball to create space with skilful dribblers which can make a difference and are dependable during preparation to score as they possessed very strong shooters

Physical condition

One of the fittest team and well prepared for the tournament

Mental aspect

They were mentally strong and focused in all matches, knowing what they want and what to do, except the match against Iran whereby they were unable to play as they usually did with other opponents and lost the game performed it very well and closed the area by moving together without losing the shape of the team and changing to other formations according to the opponent attacking strategies. They attack through the wings.

Technical:

Players are skillful on the average. No.2 is good with both feet and No.6 have a powerful and skillful left foot. The accuracy of passing was very good and the movements were great but lacked confidence.

Outstanding Players:

- No 2 LIANG SHUANG – very athletic, technically strong and good composure and a leader
- No 6 ZHANG XI – creative, skilful dribbler and scorer
- No 13 HU JIE – skilful dribbler and creative with great passing skills

Key Points:

- Formation: Alternating between 1-2-1 and 3-1 and 1-3
- Quite skillful individuals
- Plenty of good moves in rotation
- Try to find the space while rotating
- Playing aggressively and Confidently
- Improved a lot after a few game in attack and defend as a team
- Some effective long passes
- Using No.13 in the Power Play
- Need to improve their self confidence

System/Formation:

Flexible 1-2-1 and 3-1 and 1-3

Style of Play:

They play diamond formation most of the time in defense and

Tactics:-

Defensive –

They are the few teams that played diamond defense and covered the area with tactical moves without losing the shape of the team and they move together cohesively and changed very fast to other formation where necessary.

Offensive –

They played with good attacking tactics via the wings to break the opponent's defense and sent fast passes to the penalty area or by skillful moves from player No.6 to create a space for the player to strike from behind to aim for the goal.

Physical condition

They were in very good physical condition and were well prepared with young players doing as told exactly and perfectly

Mental aspect

They were well prepared on the mental aspect and it was clearly shown in their matches except the last match with Japan where their players entered the game unprepared mentally to win so they lost badly.

building up from behind. Most of the time, they used plenty of long balls to their target player around the "D" and supporting quickly from behind. They rely on man to man marking in their own half and look for quick counter attacks after winning ball possession.

Technical:

A number of their players were quite skillful like No. 11, No. 13 and No. 14, but the majority of their players were not skillful enough to build up the attack from behind.

Tactics:-

Defensive –
They stayed in their own half to defend normally but will push up to press when possible. Man to man marking is their basic defensive philosophy.

Offensive –
Alternating between 2-2 and 1-2-1. They would launch quick counter-attack right after winning ball possession. However, they also play long balls to their target player around the "D" and supporting quickly from behind.

Physical condition

Most of their players were physically strong and able to move up and down the court with ease..

Mental aspect

Strong mentality, willing to fight and have "Never Say Die" attitude. It made them a team that is others do not like to play with.

Outstanding Players:

- No 13: Rogic Tomas Petar – Strong in both feet and able to protect the ball well
- No 14: Fogarty Daniel Steven – Speedy and always on the move.

Key Points:

- Basic formation 1-2-1 but may change to 2-2 in some occasions
- Very disciplined team
- Strong mentality and never say die
- Physically fit and strong in 1 v 1 duel
- Quick in launching the counter attack
- Quick recovery after losing ball possession
- Work quite well as a team
- Play "Simple" – plenty of long balls to the target player (No. 13)
- Quick support from behind
- Man to man marking mainly in defense but not good in blocking the passing line

System/Formation:

Basic form is 1-2-1 but may change to 2-2

Style of Play:

They played simply and directly as they were not very good in

Outstanding Players:

- No 11: Khaled Takaji – Quick, clever and skillful
- No 10: Hayssam Atwi – Skillful and good in both feet. Always involved
- No 14: Mahmoud Itani – Strong and big. Able to pass, shoot and shield the ball well.

Key Points:

- Formation varies between 2-2 and 1-2-1
- Physically strong individuals
- Most players were skillful
- Willing to move and try to rotate when attacked
- Not ideal in combination play
- Have good ability to build up from behind
- Quick transition between offence and defense
- Strong in 1 v 1 duel
- Quite confident

System/Formation:

Formation varies between 2-2 and 1-2-1

Style of Play:

2-2 is their basic formation. They have 2 groups of outfield players. Within each group, there is one strong 'Pivot'. That made them could be able to alter their attacking tactics from 2-2 rotation to 1-2-1. They occupied the 4 to 4 substitution and also 1 replacing 1 at a time. Since the Lebanon players are strong enough, they would use man to man marking from the upper court during defend.

Technical:

Most of their players are good on the ball. They are not just confidence in the 1 v 1 dual, but also able to keep the ball possession well.

Tactics:-

Defensive –

As mentioned above that they are strong in 1 v 1. Most of the time they would use the man to man marking plus pressing in the upper court, trying to win the ball possession as soon as possible. If they could work more as a team, Lebanon may become more difficult to play against.

Offensive –

From 2-2 to 1-2-1 system. Since they have skillful and strong player in front to act as a 'Pivot' and able to stop the ball around the 'D'. They start the attack with the 2-2 formation with some rotation but change suddenly into 1-2-1 and look for the 'Pivot', the quickly support from behind.

Physical condition

Most games could see Lebanon use same group of 4 outfield players to play up to 6-7 minutes before making any substitution.

Mental aspect

Lebanon players also showed they have really tough mentality

Coach: PARZOS MENDES JOSE MARIA (SPAIN)

Date of birth: 28th March, 1974

Coaching Qualification:
Spanish Coaching License

Career as a Coach:

2008 – Present	Head Coach of Thailand team
2006 – 2007	Autos Lobelle Santiago (Spain) MNK Orkan Zagreb (Croatia)
2004 – 2006	Barcel Evro (Spain)
2003 – 2004	Valencia Vilusa (Spain)
2002 – 2003	Muebles Caloto (Spain)
2001 – 2003	Azkar Lugo (Spain) Melilla L. S. (Spain) Lobelle Santiago (Spain)

Outstanding Players:

- No 14 CHALAEMKHET KEATTIYOT – skillful, calm, clever and fast
- No 9 THUEANKLANG SUPHAWUT – strong, shield the ball well and able to score with both feet

Key Points:

- Basic formation is 2-2 but may change to 3-1
- Players are quite skillful
- Able to build up from behind
- Like to attack with long passes sometimes
- Able to perform well when under pressure
- Able to dictate the game tempo when playing against weaker teams
- Potential to be improved as they have a young and new squad
- Very good physical condition

System/Formation:

Basic formation is 2-2 but change to 3-1 quite easily.

Style of Play:

They have the ability to build up from behind. Plenty of rotations during attack and look towards the front players to score, occasionally make use of the diagonal moves. They would use long ball tactics if under pressure in their own half. Normally, they prefer to defend tightly in own half and launch the quick counter attack after winning ball possession.

Technical:

Most of their players are skillful. Some of them are good at both feet and very quick. Their long passes were quite accurate too.

Tactics:-

Defensive –

They defend in their own half normally but will push up to press when needed. Mainly using zonal defense and changed to man mark and press aggressively when they are behind. They can press as well as mark man to man for a long time due to their high endurance.

Offensive –

Play with 2-2 system and kept rotating during attack and would suddenly change to 1-3 and look towards the back player to stop the ball then support quickly. They are also quite good in using diagonal moves from one side to the other occasionally.

Physical condition

They were in a very good physical condition and were well prepared physically with young players

Mental aspect

They had good spirit and showed great confidence but lack experience.

- No. 20 DANG PHUOC ANH(GK)- skilful and creative

Key Points:

- Basic formation is 3-1, may change to 4-0
- Very good fighting spirit
- Quite quick during changing ball possession
- Good in building up from behind but their attacks were without any finishing
- They have some skilful players in No.4 and No.16
- Good confidence but no experience
- They were a team which is better in defending
- They use short passes and depend on the wings

System/Formation:

Flexible 4-0 or 3-1

Style of Play:

Concentrate mainly in defense and tried to build a good attack. They have very good spirit. They have young players who were physically fit enough to press the ball in their court. Whenever they win the ball, they plan the counter attack quickly.

Technical:

Some of their players were technically good although not very skilful. They worked as a team quite well but their finishing ability was not that good.

Tactics:-

Defensive –

Man to man marking in their area and zonal defense. They defended in their own half normally but able to push up to press when needed.

Offensive –

Their ability to build from behind is not bad. They rely on quick wings for attack. When they are under press in their own half, they would change from 3-1 to 2-2 and use plenty of short passes to the wings then push up to support with key player behind always.

Physical condition

They have very good physical condition. This made them able to press in the opposite team and attack as they win the ball. Also, they have quite strong team defense.

Mental aspect

Good spirit. They showed great confidence in all the games thanks to their new coach.

Outstanding Players:

- No. 5 HUSSEIN ABD ALI MOHAMMED AL-ZUBAIDI – very athletic, technically strong and good composure
- No. 11 KARRAR MOHSIN MOHAMMED AL THABETI – skillful dribbler and scorer and can end any attack

Key Points:

- Formation varies 1-2-1/2-2/3-1
- Efficient and compact defending
- Excellent tactical awareness
- Excellent use of wing areas
- Quick transfer from defense to offence

System/Formation:

Flexible 1.1.2.1 or 1.3.1

Style of Play:

They played the diamond formation most of the time in defense and performed it very well and closed the area by moving together without losing the shape of the team but needs more physical strength and experience and they should change to other formation according to the opponent's attacking strategies

Technical:

Players are skillful on the average. No. 11 is good in both feet and No. 5 is powerful and skillful. The accuracy of passing was very good but they do not have enough experience.

Tactics:-

Defensive –

They are the few teams that played diamond defense and covered the area with tactical moves without losing the shape of the team and they move together cohesively most of the time but at times they failed to do so.

Offensive –

They played with good attacking tactics by depending on the wings to break the opponent's defense and send fast passes to the penalty area specially to No.11 or to the player who comes from behind to shoot directly at the goal.

Physical condition

They were in a good physical condition but they were not well prepared physically with young players who did not always do what they were instructed to do on the pitch.

Mental aspect

They were well prepared in the mental aspect and it was clearly shown in their matches except the last match The players entered this game mentally unprepared so they sustained a loss.

Outstanding Players:

- No 5 Fayzullaev Firdavs – Capt., Calm and strong leader
- No 11 Ulmasov Alisher – Quite quick and have good feet

Key Points:

- Basic formation is 1-2-1 and changing to 2-2 sometimes
- Players have moderate Futsal skills
- Trying to move during rotation but without pattern
- Look for their "Pivot" in most of their attack
- Without a fixed "Pivot"
- Lack of combination plays
- Play more individually but not as a team
- Poor in defending both as individual and as a team
- Willing to participate

System/Formation:

Basic formation is 1-2-1 and change to 2-2 at times.

Style of Play:

Played individually but not work as a team. Players like to attack but do not concentrate on defending. Used 1-2-1 as their basic attacking formation. Look for the Target Player in front then support quickly from behind but they do not have a fixed "Pivot". They do not combine well as a team.

Technical:

Moderate skills. Some of them are quick and have the ability to dribble and beat oppositions.

Tactics:

Defensive –

They adopted the 2-2 system with zonal defending most of the time. Stay in their own half to defend but changed to 1-3 whenever they want to play a safer game.

Offensive –

1-2-1 was their basic formation. They tried to play to the target player to stop the ball at the front then support quickly from behind. However, they do not have a fixed "Pivot". Occasionally they would change to 2-2 attacking system.

Physical condition

Some players are quick but physically they were not well prepared to compete in this Championship.

Mental aspect

Keen on attack but lack concentration when defending. Willing to take risks.

Coach:

Coach: KUROCHKIN VICTOR

Day of birth: 29 September 1954

Coaching Qualification: Futsal coach

Career as a Coach:

2004	Assistant Coach
2005-2006	Goal-keeper Coach
2007-2008	Assistant Coach
2010-present	Head Coach

Outstanding Players:

- None

Key Points:

- Formation: Alternating between 4-0 and 3-1
- Quite skillful individuals
- Plenty of good moves in rotation
- Try to find the Pivot suddenly while rotating
- Playing aggressively
- Improved a lot under the new coach in terms of attack and defense as a team
- Some effective long passes
- Needs to improve the combination play

System/Formation:

Alternating between 4-0 and 3-1

Style of Play:

Start with 4-0 normally but change to 3-1 suddenly and try to find the Pivot. However, their combination plays were not good enough although they have quite skillful individuals. Their physical condition was quite good which was the reason why they were able to press in the upper court and launch the counter attack quickly.

Technical:

Players were skillful on the average. The accuracy of passing was erratic.

Tactics:-

Defensive –

Zonal defend mainly. Sometimes start defending from the half way line and at other times press in the upper field then, change to man to man when they need the time badly to retrieve the ball

Offensive –

Play aggressively normally. Plenty of rotation but the variations were insufficient. Their basic form was 4-0 but may suddenly change to 3-1 by moving the ball fast to the wings then look for the Pivot.

Physical condition

The physical condition of their players was good which could be the reason why they were able to press in the upper court. Most of their players are quick.

Mental aspect

They played aggressively and confidently. Fearless and fought for every ball.

Coach: Kuei-Jeh CHEN

Day of birth: 6 July 1968

Coaching Qualification:
AFC "B" Licence Certificate

Career as a Coach:
2006-2010 Chinese Taipei
National Futsal Team
Head Coach

Outstanding Players:

- No 2, FANG Ching-jen: Hard working, always on the move and able to score goals
- No 5, LEE Meng-Chian: Team commander, calm and intelligent

Key Points:

- Basic formation is 1-2-1, may change to 2-2
- Very good fighting spirit
- Quite quick during the moment of changing ball possession
- Able and fit enough to press in the upper half
- Not good in building up from behind but their counter attacks were not bad
- They have some skillful players like No.2, No. 5 and No. 11
- Quite confident
- They are a team which is better in defending
- Like to use long passes especially when using 2-2 formation (if under press)

System/Formation:

Alternating between 1-2-1 and 2-2

Style of Play:

Concentrated in defending and looked for quick counter attack. They have very good fighting spirit. Even though they are amateur players, they were physically fit enough to press in upper court and made it difficult for their opponents to keep the ball well. Whenever they win the ball, they launch the counter attack quite quickly.

Technical:

Some of their players were technically good. Although not very skillful, they work as a team quite well. But their finishing ability was not ideal.

Tactics:-

Defensive –

Man to man marking and zonal defending. They defended in their own half normally but were able to push up to press when needed.

Offensive –

Did not have the ability to build up from behind. They relied on quick counter attacks. When they were under press in their own half, they would change from 1-2-1 to 2-2 and used plenty of long passes to the opponent's half then push up to support and or press.

Physical condition

They have quite good physical condition. This enabled them to press in the opponent's half. They were also quite strong in 1 v 1 duel.

Mental aspect

Good fighting spirit. No matter which team they played against, they showed great confidence.

Coach:

Coach: Eisa Falah Saadoun

Day of birth: 28 April 1967

Coaching Qualification:
A Licence (Football)
Coaching Instructor Futsal

Career as a Coach:
2010 National team coach

Outstanding Players:

- No 7 Hamad AOYA Alothman – Capt., skillful and strong

Key Points:

- Formation 2-2
- Players are agile
- Some rotation during attack but without pattern
- Poor passing quality. Too many careless passes
- Insufficient tactical mind
- Combination play was rare
- Finishing ability was poor
- No concentration during game
- Could play better if the players concentrated more
- Able to push up to press in the upper court

System/Formation:

2-2 Formation both in attack and defend

Style of Play:

Stayed in their own half to defend and to look for quick counter attack. Although they did not combined well as a unit, they tried to rotate during their attack. Unfortunately, their rotation did not have pattern and variations making it difficult to create opportunities.

Technical:

Players were agile and have quick feet but their Futsal skills were not ideal.

Tactics:-

Defensive –

Occupied the 2-2 system in defend. Zonal defend combined with man marking. Stayed in their own half to defend normally but could be able to push up a bit to press sometime.

Offensive –

They basically used the 2-2 formation. Some rotation during the attack but not mature in their moves. Combination plays were very rare, thus, their attack could hardly create good opportunities.

Physical condition

Players were quick and agile but not strong enough. Physical condition was not ideal

Mental aspect

Careless most of the time but could become more attentive when needed.

TSG MEMBERS AND ASSISTANTS

The TSG had been divided into 2 groups:

Group 'A' led by Mr. Tsang Wai Chung AFC Elite Futsal Instructor as the head of Technical Study Group from Hong Kong Group 'B' guided by Mr. Hasan abu Rass AFC Elite Futsal Instructor from Jordan as the member of Technical Study Group.

Each group consists of 5 local assistants; the local TSG assistants with coaching backgrounds eagerly worked very hard through out the tournament to gather technical information as well as gaining own Technical Study's experience in this very important tournament. They concentrated in what they had been assigned to do and follow the instruction given by the group leaders very well.

Since the initial TSG requirements is more proper and quiet official areas for the technical study in both venues, the TSG members had to sit together in the upper area behind the top level of stands to gain optimal observation in the main stadium. But in the Auxiliary stadium, we had to locate ourselves in front of the playing area. Meanwhile with team work and cooperation of TSG members and devoted assistants had big achievement to execute the technical study group's assignments and could manage to do best analysis of the matches.
